Q: Can i use SQLite together with SQLiteExplorer + SQLiteStudio + SQL Server I have 2 question about how to use SQLite3 with SQLiteExplorer 3.1.0.1, SQLiteStudio 3.1.0.1 and SQL Server Express: 1) I want to import sql files (.sql) to SQLite3 database. Here is the problem, when i use sqlite3 command line tool to import sql file to database, it automatically include the created table and I want to import sql file to database without creating new table, so I try to use SQLiteExplorer to import sql file to database, but when I open database through SQLiteExplorer, SQLiteExplorer ask me, which sql file I want to import? So, does SQLiteExplorer have some sort of problem? 2) I want to use SQLiteStudio and SQL Server together. Does anyone experience this issue before? A: Does anyone experience this issue before? I don't think so. You need to make sure that: When you import the sql file to the database, you don't define a schema for it. If you do define a schema, SQLiteStudio can't detect what is the database file and what are the tables in it. When you create a table (SQL Server database with SQLiteStudio), you have to have the database file name passed to SQLiteStudio. Otherwise SQLiteStudio will use the database file created by your SQL Server instance as the default database and show you the tables inside that database.
