ABOUT HYDROS FIELD HORSES ARE BETTER THAN WALKING. The role of a horse in action games is a far cry from its role in movies. In movies, horses have a much more powerful effect, and it's more effective to ride horse than to fight them. In games, however, the case is quite opposite. There are times when you can't use a great sword or staff even if it's easier to ride a horse. You shouldn't say that you can ride a horse if you are feeling bad about running on foot. Horses are a power-enhancing tool for Hyrule Field. They can easily carry you and attack enemies. However, there are a lot of enemies in Hyrule Field, and you are expected to be very skillful to overcome them. You can practice your skills with enemies at any time, even while you are riding a horse. If you are a skillful rider, you can easily overpower the enemies, and in addition, you will also enjoy the impressive view of Hyrule Field from the saddle. Horses can be trained according to the user's play style. You can assign three attack items to each horse. You can assign the items that enhance the attack power of the horse, or that
